THE HONOR OF CLATSOP.

It is, or should be, a matter of profound consideration with a county that it is the home of a federal senator, and especially when that distinguished post is filled with energy and acumen and the force that commands the attention and commendation of a nation. This is Clatsop's distinct pride; a franchise she will not willingly forego and one she certainly will not wilfully lay down as long as she has the votes to maintain the honor. She has every reason in the world to foster the conditions that make for the retention of Hon. Charles W.

Fulton in the national senate, and not reason only, but the power of asserting her claim and of contributing to its fulfillment. To this end her delegation in the legislature MUST be in full partisan accord with the situation both in 1907 and 1909. There is no receding from this predicament; and the voters at the June polls, from one end of Clatsop county to the other, must have this in mind when they are scanning the significance of their votes. It is one of the prime essentials, and on a plane of importance not second even to the success of the state republican ticket itself. Take this into the inner chamber of your political consciousness, republicans of Astoria and Clatsop, and do your whole duty for the preservation of party dignity and repute in every element of its operation.

THE PORTLAND WAY.

L. M. Gray, the Pacific Coast agent of the Kosmos Steamship Line, a company handling a score and a half of fine steamers out of Hamburg, enters Portland and tells T. B. Wilcox his company is ready and willing to despatch a fleet of Portland-bound freighters to be had. The food-stuff autoer of the northwest tells the agent that exports from Oregon can be shipped out of Tacoma quite as well as they can out of Portland, and Mr. Gray goes elsewhere to billet his ships. That is the Portland way of securing commerce. It is the same identical spirit that keeps just nineteen feet of water, at low tide, on the Columbia River bar. It is the same spirit that prompted the silly statement in the columns of the Evening Telegram of Wednesday, that there are twenty-four feet of water on that bar at low tide, which means that there are thirty-one feet at high water, something that has not been seen there, in the sense of a working, daily, available, tide, for years. It is time that Portland takes cognizance of the state line that meanders down the center of the Columbia, for her sake and our own sake and for that of the state at large.

ONE OF THE CONSEQUENCES.

The Morning Astorian has never interfered, for, nor against, the wish of any community in Clatsop county, in the matter of local option. It believes such questions are entirely within the purview of the citizens demanding, or opposing, the policy, within the district affected. It is one of those subsidiary issues that are raised only by a given contingent of the general population and those beyond the limit of the boundaries involved should keep hands off. This we are doing. But, there is a closely analogous matter interwoven with the pending local option issue in Astoria precinct No. 6, that invites the consideration of the entire community, and that is the relation of the North Pacific Brewing Company's plant in that ward to the outcome of the election there. Here is a big, commercial investment approximating $200,000, which means a great deal in a business way to Astoria, Clatsop county, and the surrounding towns and country, and worth the fullest consideration of every voter in No. 6, and elsewhere about the city, when the question of its dismantling and removal from the community, is concerned. It is a heavy attribute of the commercial life of the city; it is a big wage-payer; it is a fixed and valuable property; it is no small item on the tax-roll of the county; it is an institution of importance in the manufacturing sense; it is not a saloon; it is an element inseparable from the question of local option, as the same now confronts the voters in that ward. They must scan the proposition of its loss to them, and to the whole community, with deliberate care and due regard for the deprivation that must ensue if the doctrine of local option is applied there. It is no child's play, nor no matter of mere whim to put an embargo of such sort upon a well-founded and prosperous business institution in a community where every manufacturing plant is of extraordinary value on the roster of its commerce. Be careful what you do, and what you say, in this relation, gentlemen of No. 6!

Eat onions in May,
No doctor you pay.

The growing of cucumbers, for pickles, puts about $1,925,000 into the pockets of Indiana farmers every year. As a special line of farming it pays.

The burdock lives but two years, flowering the second year. As soon as the flower stalk forms, cut the plant off, and it will never trouble again.

EDITORIAL SALAD.

The right time to kill weeds is—today. Not tomorrow.

A day will come when the earth will be transformed, when man shall offer his brother man not bullets nor bayonets, but richer grains, better fruits, fairer flowers.

Farmers near Alhena, Wis., are refusing to contract to sell their sugar beets to the sugar factory at $4.50 a ton, because they claim the beets are worth more than that as feed for their cows.

Anent the new and well-received Presbyterian prayer-book a western Presbyterian is quoted as saying that out his way they had to depend on canned meat, canned milk and canned vegetables, but they wouldn't stand for canned prayers.

The Boston Herald remarks that "never was there a city, unless it is Paris, where night is of so little account as New York." Well that depends on what one wishes to use it for; perhaps Boston wastes it in sleep.

Kansas City suggests that there is no need of appending "Mo." on mail addressed thither; make it simply "Kansas City, U. S. A." Isn't somebody getting just a bit chummy?

Half a dozen or more places in Europe, America and other parts of the world have reported slight earthquake shocks since that at San Francisco. They may be of the sympathetic variety, but it is to be hoped the sympathy will go no further at present.

The western part of South Dakota promises to become an apple country. Joseph Wells, near Spearfish, Lawrence County, sold last year 3374 bushels of apples at $1.25 a bushel, besides making eight barrels of cider and raising $100 worth of cherries, plums and pears. He did all this on ten acres.

American conditions do not escape the eye of the Mexican Herald, which ventures that Bryan, on the other side of the world, will note, with sadness, how Theodoros Maximus has stolen plank after plank of the Bryanite platform, even to the reduction of overgrown fortunes.

Now that the coal strike has fizzled out and the white dove of peace has alighted in the field of anthracite and coal prices, which were put on the expectation of a famine, have dropped back to the normal level, the man who has a furnace to feed and has just paid $7 a ton for the necessary food is wondering whether he has a rebate coming.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY
She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It.

When a physician tells a woman suffering with serious feminine trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for just such operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of meretricious female troubles cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free.

Miss Margaret Merkley, of 275 Third Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:
"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said I had a female trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Female troubles are steadily on the increase among women. If the monthly periods are very painful, or too frequent and excessive—if you have pain or swelling low down in the left side, bearing-down pains, don't neglect yourself; try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A recent case in which a street-car passenger who asserted that he had paid his fare and had a transfer to substantiate it was slugged by the conductor raises the question as to the right of conductors to assault passengers, whether the latter pay their fares or not. Such methods of collecting are not tolerated elsewhere. Why should they be allowed on street-cars?

It is all right to talk about beauty habits, but most women are too busy hustling and have no time to cultivate beauty habits. Therefore they take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Sold by Frank Hart.

The Word "Tattoo."

Tattoo is not the only way in which tattoo was formerly spelled. Tatoo and taptoo are also to be found in old books. Watson's Military Dictionary, fifth edition, 1758, gives the following: "To beat the tattoo, to order all to repair to their quarters; tattoo, sometimes called the retreat; the beat of drum at night for all soldiers in garrison to retire to their quarters and to their tents in the field."

In the 1788 edition of Grose's "Military Antiquities" the following is to be found: "Tattoo, the signal for soldiers to retire to their quarters or barracks and to the sutlers to draw no more liquor, from whence it derives its name; the taptoo is seldom beat in camp."

In Johnson's Dictionary "tapotez tous," meaning a general beat of drums, was given as the derivation of tattoo, but that was surely one of the "whimsical guesses at etymology suggested by previous writers." Watson says that the beat called "the general" was to give notice to the forces that they are to march and that "batterie de tambour" was the corresponding term in French.—Notes and Queries.

TERRIBLE ITCHING SCALP HUMOR

Badly Affected With Sores and Crusts—Extended Down Behind the Ears—Some Years Later Painful and Itching Pustules Broke Out on Lower Part of Body—Son Also Affected.

A TRIPLE CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"About ten years ago my scalp became badly affected with sore and itching humors, crusts, etc., and extending down behind the ears. My hair came out in places also. I was greatly troubled; understood it was eczema. Tried various remedies, so called, without effect. Saw your Cuticura advertisement, and got them at once. Applied them as to directions, etc., and after two weeks, I think, of use, was clear as a whistle.

"I have to state also that late last fall, October and November, 1904, I was suddenly afflicted with a bad eruption, painful and itching pustules over the lower part of the body. I suffered dreadfully. In two months, under the skillful treatment of my doctor, conjoined with Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, I found myself cured.

"Six years ago my son was laid up with a severe cold, a hard cough, and finally painful eruption all over the body. I procured the Cuticura Remedies as soon as possible, and after his faithful use of same was as well as ever in two weeks, as well as I can recall. He has never had a return of the illness, as far as I know.

"I have always been pleased to commend the Cuticura Remedies, and testify as to their efficacy. I am a veteran of the late Civil War, '61-'65, between seventy and eighty years of age. Yours truly, H. M. F. Weiss, Rosemond, Christian Co., Ill., Aug. 31, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humor, from Pimples to Scabies, from Itchiness to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c.; Cuticura Ointment, 25c.; Resolvent, 50c. GOVERNOR

GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN

OF OREGON

Say, you who have a true wife, looking after your welfare would you change, and take another, just because she belongs to the same dancing class party that you do?

OF COURSE YOU WOULDN'T
NOT IF YOU ARE A
REAL MAN.

Or, if you had an honest faithful bookkeeper, would you fire him to have one untried and almost unknown, just because the new man belonged to the same party as you did.

OF COURSE YOU WOULDN'T
NOT IF YOU ARE A
REAL MAN.
